-: ACM Non-Technical (“Type MAster”) Event Report :-

Introduction:

On May 5th 2023 , the Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) members conducted a non-technical event named "Type Master" at ‘DADI INSTITUTE OF ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY’ to promote typing skills among students. The event aimed to find the students' typing skills and provide them with a platform to showcase their abilities. The event was held on May 5th, 2023 in the college's Seminar Hall and attracted [104] participants from various departments and semesters

Objectives:

The primary objective of the event was to help students improve their Typing skills . In addition to this, the event aimed to:

- Foster a sense of healthy competition
- Encourage students to participate in events

Event Details:

The event was organized by the ACM members, The event was open to all students, and the participants can participate individually.

The 'Type Master' challenges were designed to test the Typing skills. The challenges were of different rounds, First round is for all and second round is for people who qualified in First round. The participants had to type as fast they could within a specific time frame.

Format:

The event was organized in an individual participation format. The event has only two round :

Round 1: Participants have to type a given paragraph within a specified time frame.

Round 2: The top 10 participants of round 1 will qualified to this round, participant have to type A-Z alphabets

Outcome:

The event was a huge success, and it was well-received by the students. The event provided a platform for students to showcase their typing skills. The participants showed great enthusiasm and interest in the challenges.

After the “Type Master” challenge, the participants were given an opportunity to present their typing skills. We use a software for type master to find the winners.the participants were also given feedback on how they could improve their solutions.

The event concluded with a prize distribution ceremony. The winners were awarded exciting prizes and certificates by the ACM members. The event was highly successful, and the participants gave positive feedback about the event. They appreciated the efforts made by the ACM members to organize such a useful event.

Overall, the "Logic Behind The Code" event by the ACM members at “DADI INSTITUTE OF ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY” was a great success. It provided a platform for students to learn and improve their logical reasoning and coding skills. The event was a great opportunity for students to showcase their skills and receive feedback from experts. The ACM members should be applauded for their efforts in organizing such a useful event.

Conclusion:

The "TYPE MASTER"non- technical event by ACM members was a successful initiative to promote typing skills among students. The event provided a platform for students to showcase their typing abilities and learn typing tricks from each other. The event was a great experience for the participants. It is recommended that such events be organized on a regular basis to promote the importance of event participation in today's world. The ACM members are appreciated for their efforts in organizing such a valuable event for the benefit of students.
